The proxy is therefore only valid, if and to the extent if you instruct the company's voting representative by means of the option laid down in the proxy form. As far as express and clear instructions have not been given regarding the individual agenda items, the voting representative will not vote on these agenda items.

An instruction of the company voting representative is particularly also applicable to an adjusted proposed resolution as well as in the event that individual votes are held on individual agenda items.

You may instruct the voting representative specifically on each individual agenda item (Section B). However, you also may instruct the voting representative to vote in favor of the administration's proposals on all agenda items (Section A). Additionally you may also instruct the company's voting representative to vote in favor or against the voting proposals of the administration in case of any counterproposals or procedural requests (Section C).

As far as applications by shareholders (counter-applications and respectively voting proposals) to be published as regards the agenda of the general meeting have been received, you may access these applications, if applicable along with the administration's statement, on the company's webpage under "Investor Relations" or "Annual General Meeting".

If any additions to the agenda are received in due time within the statutory time limitations they will be published on the company's website under "Investor Relations" respectively "Annual General Meeting". You may also exercise your voting rights as regards these applications by instruction. For this purpose, a document with the respective instruction options will be published on the company's webpage under "Investor Relations" respectively "Annual General Meeting".

The company's voting representative do not accept any instructions to request to speak, to file objections against resolutions of the annual general meeting or to ask questions or file applications.

In the event that the voting representative receives more than one proxy with instructions or a number of differing instructions on the same agenda item from a shareholder, the proxy with instruction received last is binding.

Granting a voting representative of the Koenig & Bauer AG proxy, the revocation of such proxy and evidence for the grant of proxy with regard to the company as well as giving, revoking or altering instructions require text form.

Even after granting the company's voting representative proxy to exercise their voting rights, shareholders may still attend the Annual General Meeting on May 23, 2017 in person.

In addition, shareholders who registered in due time and form and attend the Annual General Meeting as well as their proxies may also grant proxy to the company's voting representative to exercise their voting right and give them instructions during the general meeting until the end of the general debate.
